DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it contains two paragraphs.

Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Objections

3. Claims 5, 6, 10 and 11-16 objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim should refer to other claims in the alternative only and/or cannot depend from any other multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 4 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is not clear what limitation is intended by "the subject matter of Dutch patent application No. 1017843" in line 3 of claim 4 and lines 3 and 4 of claim 10.

Double Patenting

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

7. Claims 7 and 9 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 2 and 7 of copending Application No. 10/763384. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both teach a soldering apparatus with a handling device (conveyor in instant claims) for moving the object to be soldered, a camera for recording an image (video camera in instant claims), and a computing device for comparing images. However the '384 claims teach a camera not a video camera.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention that a video camera is an obvious variation of a camera and is used in the same manner to retrieve the same data.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

9. Claims 1-3 and 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Todd (USPN 4844324).

Art Unit: 1725

Todd teaches a method and apparatus for soldering and visually assessing solder joints wherein a video camera (col 7 lines 31-48) is used in combination with a conveyor (30) and control means to assess the need for corrective soldering (col 3 line 51 – col 4 line 30 and col 4 line 64 – col 5 line 21). The board is then resoldered as necessary (col 9 lines 4-27).

10. Claims 1-3 and 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kobayashi et al. (USPN 5542600).

Kobayashi teaches a method and apparatus for soldering and visually assessing solder joints wherein a video camera (col 15 lines 45-50) is used in combination with a conveyor (4, 5, 11, 31) and control means (CPU) to assess the need for corrective soldering (col 9 line 55 – col 10 line 61). The board is then resoldered as necessary (col 14 lines 1-62 and col 22 line 41 – col 23 line 18, figure 6 and 14). The apparatus may comprise a robot (col 1 lines 36-43) See also figures 1 and 2.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Best (USPN 5680694, robot), Adams et al. (RE 35423), Zweig et al. (USPN 6151380) and Roessner (USPN 5657075).
